

VINAL TECH DIGS PINK

Vinal Tech's "Lady Hawks" volleyball team

On Friday October 12, 2018, Vinal Technical High School's Lady Hawks hosted their annual "Dig Pink" volleyball game against Ellis Tech in honor of Breast Cancer Awareness month. Organized by varsity team captain Riley McConnell, the team aimed to raise money for the Side-Out Foundation.

The Lady Hawks found several ways to earn money for the foundation. For $1, students and faculty could get their name on a pink note on the wall of the gym to be displayed during the game. Outside the gym, spectators could buy baked goods made by the Lady Hawks.

Riley McConnell, Stevie Richie, and Abigail Young (left to right)

Vinal Tech's Lady Hawks weren't the only team to show their support for breast cancer awareness. Vinal Tech's soccer team wore pink socks for their game against Cheney Technical High School.

Vinal Tech's Lady Hawks played well during the event, beating Ellis Tech 3 matches to 0. They would like to thank everyone who showed up and donated for making the Dig Pink game a success.